

Lonely Kings "Wish"

Thoughts and focus sounds and motion, back and forth
To reap rewards
Moving slowly, ever slowly
Cannot wait for you solution
And it's over now
Had all the drama we could take
Casting shadows south
Within a promise we can't break
And it's over now
Had all the smiles I could fake
Casting shadows south
Within a promise we can't break

All I ever wanted
All ever need was proof
I feel lack of motive
I wish my own mind soared
I wish that I could seed the truth
I want you to notice
Words are spoken, silence broken
Nevermind man, it was nothing
An appointment with your vision
Caught a glimpse, a split decision.
