

Lonestar

"My Front Porch Lookin In"

Visit "My Front Porch Lookin In" on MotoLyrics.com

The only ground I ever owned
Was stickin' to my shoes
No I look at my front porch
In this panoramic view

I could sit and watch the field fill up
With rays of golden sun
Or watch the moon lay on the fences
Like that's where it was hung

My blessings are in front of me
Its not about the land
I'll never beat the view
From my front porch lookin' in

There's a carrot top who can barely walk
With a sippy cup of milk
A little blue eyed blond with shoes on wrong
'Cuz she likes to dress herself

And the most beautiful girl
Holdin' both of them
Yeah, the view I love the most
Is my front porch lookin' in

I travel here and everywhere
Followin' my job
I've seen the paintings from the air
Brushed by the hand of God

The mountains and the canyons reach
From sea to shining sea
But I cant wait to get back home
To the woman He made for me

'Cuz anywhere I'll ever go
And everywhere I've been
Nothin takes my breath away
Like my front porch lookin' in

There's a carrot top who can barely walk

With a sippy cup of milk
A little blue eyed blond with shoes on wrong
'Cuz she likes to dress herself

And the most beautiful girl
Holdin' both of them
Yeah, the view I love the most
Is my front porch lookin' in

I see what beautiful is about
When I'm lookin' in
Not when I'm lookin' out

There's a carrot top who can barely walk
With a sippy cup of milk
A little blue eyed blond with shoes on wrong
'Cuz she likes to dress herself

And the most beautiful girl
Holdin' both of them
Yeah, the view I love the most
Oh, the view I love the most
Is my front porch lookin' in

Oh, there's a carrot top that can barely walk
(From my front porch lookin' in)
A little blue eyed blond with shoes on wrong
And the most beautiful girl
(Beautiful girl)

(From my front porch lookin' in)
Holdin both of them
Oh, yeah

Visit Lonestar page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.