

Lonestar

"She's Unusually Unusual"

Visit "She's Unusually Unusual" on MotoLyrics.com

She introduced herself as Amy, said, "Call me Caroline for short"

I just moved in three doors down so I wouldn't be the girl next door

And I knew the shoes she wasn't wearing fit her just right

She said, "Hey, man did you know that

Somebody left your grass out in the yard all night?"

She's unusually unusual

Absolutely unpredictable

She's so different and that's what's wonderful

She's unusually unusual

And that's beautiful to me

She had a tattoo above her ankle of a trident submarine

She said it symbolizes awesome powers hidden deep within our dreams

And her diamond eyes, different in color, held me captive in their light

And she said, "Hey, man did you know

We used to be brothers in some past life?"

She's unusually unusual

Absolutely unpredictable

She's so different and that's what's wonderful

She's unusually unusual

And that's beautiful to me

Some people may think she's strange

A different cup of tea

But she just does it for me

She's unusually unusual

Absolutely unpredictable

She's so different and that's what's wonderful

She's unusually unusual

And that's beautiful to me

Visit Lonestar page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.
