Hundred thousand years, you were on the right way
Hundred thousand years, you saw the ray Hundred thousand years, you knew what was right but tell me now, why do you fight ?

Hundred thousand years, you loved your child Hundred thousand years, the times weren't wild Hundred thousand years, time went on but tell me now, where is it gone ?

Hundred thousand years, in your heart was love
Hundred thousand years, the sky was above Hundred thousand years, you weren't alone but tell me now, why is your heart made of stone ?
