"Everything Turns To You"

And everything turns to you,
and everything turns to you... and everytime I make the try,
I cry and cry for you.

and here is everything I want,
over everything you do.
This is what I want to change to make it matterful again but nothing ever ever made the change made the change
made the change.

all the times I make it worse
all the devils in my head

over everything you do. this is what I wanna change and I cry and cry for you cause everything turns to you

everything turns to you and everytime time time I make it, try it all comes back to you but nothing ever, ever made the change, made the change, made the change.
