//from now you'll never fool yourself, let it slip your hands now you're never gonna let it in make it raze your grounds now you're never gonna let it in to make a fool of yourself, anyhow now you always keep it in your pocket closest to your heart to let it comfort you, make it feel alright ... sunny days, a stone the size of your hand, is lying softly in your stomach sunny days, a regret is lying dark in yourself she calls your phone her sound reveals she feels for you she knows you've really had hard times to make it right again now you're never gonna let it in, ever lose again you're off the ground sunny days, a stone the siza of her hand, is lying softly in your stomach,
sunny days, the mercy of an angel on your head
