Kick me down, is all I hear now a days
Break me off, you can say it in a thousand ways
Give me this, give me that as if you feel angry
Lying to kick it, just to smoke up all my weed

Drinking my brew and getting drunker than me
Tell me what is it that you wanting from me Ain't nothing free, I had to work to get what's coming to me
Open your eyes and realize that this is something to see

Kick down is what they talk 'bout today
Your in my arena but you don't wanna play
It's how you move and not what you say
When the cats away, the mice will play

'Cause I'm remembering the days when I didn't have nothing
Living in the ghetto, east side, I'll tell you something
From the life I've lived and what I've seen Nothing from nothing means nothing

So you better have something
If you wanna kick down from me
So let's move to the side and make this discrete
Take a look at my numbers to see if they meet

Up with your styling to fill up your streets
I don't know who you are, but I guess, you know me
Stop thinking you can come up so easily

Kick me down, is all I hear now a days
Break me off, you can say it in a thousand ways
Give me this, give me that as if you feel angry
Lying to kick it, just to smoke up all my weed

Drinking my brew and getting drunker than me
Tell me what is it that you wanting from me
Ain't nothing free, I had to work to get what's coming to
me
Open your eyes and realize that this is something to

see

What is it that you begging me for?
I've got it all but now you can't have it
I've learned from what I've earned
And established my status as a job to manage

And to my advantage, I will stand ground
Shake your hand like the realest man around
And your town kicking you down for a minute
But everything your life have [Incomprehensible]

Beginning only to end it, as if it was intended
But you still have to take in the streets and represent it
For each one who slept off a creek and represent it
So you can sleep for each consecutive second

That's independent from each hour
I speak as if I was the only source of power Keeper of keeper, thought with knowledge in my conscious tower
I read the fate like characters in fictitious novels

And yet between the lines more follow
A most hollow way of life to model
For our street investing stress in a bottle
Nah, your better off wishing a lotto

Kick me down, is all I hear now a days
Break me off, you can say it in a thousand ways
Give me this, give me that as if you feel angry
Lying to kick it, just to smoke up all my weed

Drinking my brew and getting drunker than me
Tell me what is it that you wanting from me
Ain't nothing free, I had to work to get what's coming to
me
Open your eyes and realize that this is something to
see

Hey [Incomprehensible], ha ha, what's up Op?
Ain't seen you in a while, child, hey man
You fucking living large, huh
Coming up, huh, you like it, serving the purpose and shit
Gold card and everything, right, right
Kick me down, huh, I'm gonna tell you like this, bro

Kick me down, is all I'm hearing from you
Come on man, break me off, save me some

As if there's some for you, I need this, give me that
As if you need some help feed your self
You's the only one that needs yourself

I need a drink to get me drunker than the forty thieves
Tell me why is it that you fronting on my fortune, please?
Speak your piece or forever hold your own
I need a loan, I need a car to get on

Naw, dawg, you better off fetching for your own bone to throw
Come on, I'm in the streets I'm all alone
But if you seek than you shall find, your shine ain't gone
So can I get a kick down? Naw, you wrong

Ã¢â€¢ËœKick me downÃ¢â€¢Ëœ, is all I hear now a days
Break me off, you can say it in a thousand ways
Give me this, give me that as if you feel angry
Lying to kick it, just to smoke up all my weed

Drinking my brew and getting drunker than me
Tell me what is it that you wanting from me
Ain't nothing free, I had to work to get what's coming to
me
Open your eyes and realize that this is something to
see
