I have run but I can't lose you,
I built up walls but you just break through
I'm trying to escape trying to escape,
But your keeping up the chase keeping up the chase

I break your heart but you just come back
You've open arms and I know
I can't ever make you leave never gonna leave
Love is holding me love is holding me

I can never walk anywhere without you
Try to turn my back but still I find you
Everywhere I go everywhere I know your always there always there

There are days I want to turn back Sometimes its so tough to trust that
You gotta plan for me, gotta plan for me
But its hard for me to see, hard for me to see

There's one thing with which I'm sure
No high no depth no fear of failure
But Can pull me from your grace, can pull me from your grace

I can never walk anywhere without you
Try to turn my back but still I find you
Everywhere I go
Everywhere I know your always there, always there

When I'm walking in the light and faith comes easy
When I'm drowning in my doubt not believing
Every step I take with me all the way
Your always there, always there

And I won't ever be alone (I won't ever be alone)
No I won't ever be alone (I won't ever be alone)

I can never walk anywhere without you
Try to turn my back but still I find you
Everywhere I go, everywhere I know your always there,
always there

When I'm walking in the light faith comes easy
When I'm drowning in my doubt not believing
Every step I take with me all the way
Your always there, always there
Your always there, always there
