Show her smile just for awhile and fall for the lie In no time at all my heart it falls she says goodbye. another girl but its the same old line everyone has there but where is mine

Memories are left in the dust and everything else just falls away time and time again its the same old story. Treatment unfair and unjust and things just never go my way. The fact remains that nobody loves me.

Step back in line Im out of time what did I expect?
Emergency route, mind filled with doubt this is just perfect.
Nothing here is ever mine. What have done? Drink the bottle til empty then have another one
