Now we have to pay (Tomorrow is going to be better.
You cried as you wrote my letter)
Lead astray
No more tears, you've gone away
We've betrayed
(Your presence trembles my body, this proves theres nothing for free)
Disarrayed

Fate it shines its ugly face and we are left to die and fade into something I don't want to be.

I search for a way I cannot find and silently we lose our minds all because they cannot see.

All I have you provide I sink now into a selfish pride as our glass is left half empty.

I stare in your mirror and it reflects all this pain I now reject
all because they cannot see
