Its not so much I'm mad.
I'm more disappointed.
With all the lies you said and all the truth you bent. I cant believe all these ideas in your head.
I cant conceive that you did what you did.

I'm left defeated. Bleeding from your pain. And your theft completed. All is left in vain.

Is this just a desperate cry for my attention? Leaving it all behind, wrong decisions.
I cant believe all these ideas in your head. And I cant conceive that you did what you did.

I thought I could trust you, I thought there was more.
But you threw that away and slammed the door. And you still want this to be alright? Run from the friendship to selfish pride. Hide in your secrets made from lies.
This is the reason that we fight.

So good luck, so long, farewell my friend.
Goodbye
