Show her smile, just for awhile.
Fall for the lie. In no time at all my heart it falls and she says goodbye.

Another girl but its the same old line. everyone has theres but where is mine?

Memories are left in the dust and everything else just fall away.
Time and time again its the same old story. Treatment unfair and unjust and things just never go my way. The fact remains that no body loves me.

Step back in line, I'm out of time.
What did I expect? Emergency route, mind filled with doubt. this is perfect.

Nothing here is ever mine. What have I done? Drink bottle till empty then have another one
