And it seems that the time has come for you to see me grow.

And I know that its time to move on but I'm ready to leave. and sad to go.

But now the time is right.
So remember tonight...

Follow me for one last escape
One last adventure that we can take
Don't forget, I wont forget
All the memories that we can make.

Remember the times we had? All the laughs that we laughed?
When we would stay up past dawn every night?
There were the times that I cried but you were always there right by my side. Then I knew you'd always be my best friend
