

Long Term Hero "Quiet Desolation"

Visit "Quiet Desolation" on MotoLyrics.com

Words escape through your forked tongue. Truth it burns your eyes and lungs. The cruel and heartless find a friend in you.

And when you crash in a fiery wreck will you do it on the side of the road so the rest of us can still get through?

Twist and turn as I'm falling down again. I hear your voice calling out my name again.

Step back, Catch your breath
Is it worth the loss of her?
Piece together, what is left Lets come back to the way we were

And through all of this I wish that you would have died tonight. Cause then Id know that you'd still love me tomorrow.

We will find a way
(Only if you want us to)
Twist and Turn, Twist and Burn
We all fall down tonight
