You're eyes aglow.

They look like ghost lamps, but you're soul keeps sinking.

Nowhere to go backward or forward.

I could never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

There's no use.

The language you're speaking doesn't make sense.

But you got caught right at the beginning.

I could never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

But on your face, I can see it glowing.

And all your thoughts are going

Back to the place where you once were golden.

But somewhere you were broken along the way.

Never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

How did you get so far from home dear?

You were just getting started.

Well, how did you get soo far from home now?

Well, it's hard to explain.

Yes, it's hard to explain.

I know it's hard to explain.

But on your face, I can see it glowing.

And all your thoughts are going

Back to the place where you once were golden.

But somewhere you were broken along the way.

Never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

I could never tear you away.

You gotta get back where you started.

Before it's too late.

You're eyes are aglow, or maybe they're headlights.

Coming out of the dark.
