I love your apple
I know your shape
And what you're for
My solitary
Is down below your shaded warmth
You see right through me
Do you know what I'm thinking?

Is it pain, is it love
That keeps us growing stronger than anyone?
Am I just an amazing freak of nature, tired of going
on?
I found I am unlike you
I found I am unlike you
Been a stranger for the last time, in my room.

For what are you reaching?
You're growing higher every year
Maybe for Heaven
To take you away from us my dear
Is this theory absurd?
I know you will be staying right here

Is it pain, is it love
That keeps us growing stronger than anyone?
Am I just an amazing freak of nature, tired of going
on?
I found I am unlike you
I found I am unlike you
Been a stranger for the last time, in my room.
