Now this heres a story about the rock island line now the rock island lines a rail road line and runs down into new orleans and just out side new orleans is a big toll gate now all the trains that go through the tool gate gotta pay the man some money unless of course they got certain things on board then they okay they dont gotta pay the man nothin right now we see a train she comin on down the line when she gets up to the toll gate the deport shouts down to the driver he wants to know whathe got on board so he say er.. 'what you got on board there boy' and the driver he shouts right back down the depoy tells him what he got on board I got sheep, i got cows, i got horses, i got pigs i got all live stock
i got all live stock i got alll liive stock and the man he say your all right there boy you aint gotta pay nothin just get um on through so the train goes through the tunnel and as he goes through he gets up a little bit of steam he gets up a little bit of speed and when hes saftley on the other side of the toll gate the driver he shouts back to the man he dont care what he says now hes goin home he goin down to rock island line he says
