When my days are lonely, I'm dreamin' fer you only,
baby will you please come home.

I'm tired of livin', I'm tired of livin' all alone.

I know I mistreated you, that's why you all alone.

My days are getting lonely, my nights about the same,
I'm so used to hearin' you call my name.

That's why I'm grievin', baby will you please come home.

And if you don't come back home, I know I won't last long.

I laid my head on the pillow, I found an empty space,
but there's no one else could fill your place.

That's why I'm grievin', and all alone.

And my heart will stop bleeding, baby when you come back home.

Babe, listen to my pleas.

Baby, baby, listen to my pleas.

Will you come back home? I'm slowly dyin' on my feet.
