Alright, watch this â€¦ [spoken words, Lonnie Johnson]

Storm is risin', rain begins to fall.
Storm is risin', rain begins to fall.
I'm all alone by myself, no one to love me at all.

My blues starts about midnight, and don't leave until
My blues starts about midnight, and don't leave until
day
'Cause I've got no sweet woman, to drive my blues away.

You think some people is happy, oh, but you don't know.
You think some people is happy, oh, but you don't know.
You don't know what's happening, after their door is closed.

Blues, blues, fallin' down just like showers of rain.
Blues, blues, fallin' down just like showers of rain.
Every once in a while I can I hear my baby call my name.

You know better â€¦ [spoken words - probably Dan
Dixon]
