

Lonnie Johnson

"Little Rocking Chair"

Visit "Little Rocking Chair" on MotoLyrics.com

Well, I'm goin' down to the river, take along my little
rockin' chair.

Well, I'm goin' down to the river, take along my little
rockin' chair.

Well, if I can't find my lover, guess I'll rock on 'way from here.

Yes, I'm so tired of being disappointed, I'm so tired of
being all alone.

Yes, I'm so tired of being disappointed, I'm so tired of
being all alone.

Yes, I'm so tired of layin' down at night, worryin' 'bout
where my baby's gone.

Sometimes when the sun is risin' in the mornin', still
walkin' up and down my floor.

Sometimes when the sun is risin' in the mornin', still
walkin' up and down my floor.

My two pillows so covered with tears, that I can't rest in my bed no more.

Yes, I been drinkin' to keep from thinkin', I been smilin'
when my heart is cryin'.

Yes, I been drinkin' to keep from thinkin', smilin' when my heart is cryin'.

Yes, I've been tryin' my best, to find a little peace for this worried mind.

Visit Lonnie Johnson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.