

Lonnie Johnson

"She Ain't Right"

Visit "She Ain't Right" on MotoLyrics.com

Someday I won't be with you and you won't have to stay out from home.

Someday I won't be with you and you won't have to stay out from home.

Someday your other man will make you regret the day that you were born.

You're a lyin' woman and you just can't tell the truth.
You're a lyin' woman and you just can't tell the truth.
But thanks to you darlin' you have learned me just what to do.

I been sweet to you. It don't mean a thing to you.
'Cause you just can't help it and you cannot be true.
But I love you darlin' no matter what you do.

Why don't you get wise and get hip to yourself?
Because someday you may be left up on a shelf.
And I won't be here to worry you. You can have it all by yourself.

'Cause I did all I could tryin' to make you play fair.
When I found out what it takes you really ain't got it there.
'Cause I can't find no truth when it ain't nothin' there.

Visit Lonnie Johnson page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.