You have my life in your hands, give anything I've got.
You have my life in your hands, I'll give you anything
I've got.

I can't live without you baby, and I find there's no way out.

I told all my friends I would never love, and to throw it out there mind.

I told all my friends I would never love, told them to throw it out there mind.

But I don't know what you did to me baby, but everything you do is fine

First, the way you walk by me baby, make cold chills
run up and down my spine.

First, the way you walk by me baby, make cold chills
run up and down my spine.

And when you move those fine brown hips, oh yes, it drives me out my mind.

I've been aroun' the world, seen everything that's on the map.

I've been aroun' the world baby, I seen everything
that's on the map.

Until I run into your fine brown body, it's just to tend a trap.
