I can take goodbye right out of the blue
Handle the surprise if our love is through
So don't act like you don't know how this story ends
Just say the words you're holding in

Don't slowly show me nothings left inside
And don't drag it out and think you're being kind
And don't you dare,
Leave me a little at a time

I don't wanna waste, time that I could spend
Mending this heart to use it again
So all that I request, is that you do it fast
I don't think that's too much to ask
And don't drag it out and think you're being kind
And don't you dare,
Leave me a little at a time

When it's all over but the shouting
And every side is screaming to move on
If you ever cared about this heart of mine

Don't you dare leave me,
Darling; please don't leave me
Don't you dare leave me...
A little At a time
