I can't live my life with my back to the wall.
Can't walk this road always on the defense.
I think I'll let my heart make the call.
When my faith is being put to the test.
(You can test me all you want - I'm still standing here).
So I'll press on the way I feel I should.
But rest assured that your point's been understood.

I've heard your side and it's all good.
I swear I'd see the world through your eyes if I could.
But I can't my friend, and I never ever will.
So let's agree to disagree take the issue and we'll kill it.
We're supposed to be brothers this fighting's got to stop.
So let's agree to disagree take the issue and we'll drop it.

I know you care and I know you're concerned
But sometimes you've got to let me live and learn
I'll hear you out any day of the week
But you can't expect me to change each time you speak.
(Speak til you're blue in the face - I'm still standing here).
And I'll press on the way I feel I should
But rest assured that your point's been understood.

I've heard your side and it's all good
I swear I'd see the world through your eyes if I could
But I can't my friend, and I never ever will.
So let's agree to disagree take the issue and we'll kill it.
We're supposed to be brothers this fighting's got to stop.
So let's agree to disagree take the issue and we'll drop it.

You can push all you want. I won't push you back
Come at me all day I will not attack you
Or fight you, I'll just leave it alone
If you're looking to argue do it on your own
There's no time for us to waste on this
One disagreement is killing our relationship

So let's drop it, my friend, and start fresh today
Looks like it's that or nothing
I just can't see it your way

But I can't my friend, and I never ever will.
So let's agree to disagree take the issue and we'll kill it.
We're supposed to be brothers this fighting's got to stop.
So let's agree to disagree take the issue and we'll drop it.

Swallow your pride
Put your differences aside
Swallow your pride
Agree to disagree.
