"Hourglass"

Headless and horseless, you're lifeless
Hold the hourglass with both fists to hide this
This reminds you of living
This reminds you of dying
Just like it's always been
And things can never change
And things can never change
Headless, horseless, lifeless, lifeless
Hourglass, both fists, hide this, hide this
And when were here colors can bleed together
Colors can bleed together
And when were here colors can bleed together
Colors can bleed together
Headless and horseless, you're lifeless
Hold the hourglass with both fists to hide this, to hide this
Death is upon us
