How long will it take to finally cave in
When we've fallen to the bottom?
Consequence violently forced into our stomachs.

We too are vulnerable, we too are afraid,
But we can't hold on to despair or hide in these wretched caves.
When there is so much being to embrace...
So many movements to exchange.

And what will it take to finally get up
When we've fallen to the bottom?
Consequence violently forced out of our stomachs.

Find ourselves in rounded corners facing everything in shadow.
We shake and we shudder and run screaming to our caves.
When seeing leaves us there is no true escape.
