[music: Damien Lempiere, lyrics: Catherine Lempiere]

Into hell's well

Beyond the edge of the black forest

Where trees burn, where birds and wolves Servants of Lucifer, sing satanic incantations

Where daylight fades, seven oaks, seven bloody crosses

Here's the gate to hell's well

Here's the beginning of your pain

If you fall into hell's well thousands of fallen angels, servants of Lucifer will drink your blood, eat your flesh and offer your soul to their master, the bringer of light

This is your slow going to Hell

Into Hell's well, Lucifer will damn your soul

And you'll take the oath to serve the king of Hell

Your mission will be to destroy human weakings, human souls

Now you're haunting Hell's well

You are a fallen angel

If you fall into Hell's well

The seventh cross will be your emblem

Blood will be your wine

And Lucifer your master
