

Lorde Of All Desires "Whence Chaos Cometh"

Since man's first disobedience Immense enmity for him ensued Shameful of erroneous sin enslaved by benighted words Trials seeking to overturn refuted seemed immortally unpierceable Relentlessly praised, never defied Endless repulsion made sentient supplanting his creation
Whence chaos cometh
Debel all light, come forth Abaddon
Instill pestilence among the spiritless
Devoid of facile bliss
Lifeless, gone the way of all flesh Slowly powers build, reinforced by those persuaded souls
The time now upon us of prophecies foretold Chaos has erupted as the noose begins to tighten Close at hand, the hour of death for all those who oppose his reign Suffering, inverted now is the cross that misled you Diablerie has risen to power and now shall consume the earth Slowly you see as the streets fill with blood

The fiery sky paints
the pictures of pain Terror, bereaved you become as your fear doth consume you alive
Whence chaos cometh
Debel all light, come forth Abaddon
Instill pestilence among the spiritless
Lifeless, gone the way of all flesh
