Instrumental - Sounds of female's chakras being 'licked'

This is the 18th song on the Farstucker album that came out in 2000. It is my favorite CD I own by Lords of Acid. This song isn't even close to being their best work though. If anyone wants to know what a Chakras are are energy centers along the spine located at major branchings of the human nervous system, beginning at the base of the spinal column and moving upward to the top of the skull, through which pass 3 major energy channels.
