(Peggy Forman)

The morning sun is slippin' underneath my shaded window
Outside happy children start their play
My best frind rings the doorbell but I just couldn't answer
I don't feel like living today.

I call the boss to tell him that I just couldn't make it
And sorry that I phoned in so late
But if I start feeling better I'll try again tomorrow
I don't feel like living today.

How can I face the world outside after losin' my last night
The man who loved me for so long said
Were through and now we've gone away
I don't feel like living today.

I turn on the TV to catch the Last of Dinah
But I see some old love stories took her place
And I'm just not enough to watchin' somebody else's heartbreak
I don't feel like living today.

How can I face the world outside after losin' my last
night
The man who loved me for so long said were through and now he's gone away
I don't feel like living I don't feel like living
I don't feel like living today...
