(Betty Sue Perry)

Sometimes life can lead you in a lonely hopeless race
I know I'd have trouble keepin' up my neighbor's face
But when we're dead no one's ahead the race belongs to God
And he'll even stop the difference beneath six feet of sod.

In time six feet of sod he'll make us all the same
God will play no favour to our wisdom wealth or fame
He cast aside each man who dies we'll all belong to God
And he'll even stop the difference beneath six feet of sod.

--- Instrumental ---

In time six feet of sod he'll make us all the same
And every man must make his stand along before his
God
And he'll even stop the difference beneath six feet of sod...
