(Darlene Shofner)

The softness of your warm red lips the gentle touch of your fingertips

Are just sweet things I remember about you

That happy look deep in your eyes the way you kiss and the way you sigh

Are just sweet things I remember about you

I could tell you a million things you do that haunt me night and day

For I get so lonely darling every moment you're away

The way you smoke your cigarette the way I tingled when we first met

Are just just sweet things I remember about you

[ steel ]

I could tell you a million things...
