Well now I can see the stars
There's no difference between
Jupiter and Mars.
There's a light between the garden
And the sea
Don't let it fall away from me.

You were only there 'cause I can't forget
The things you wear
Or maybe it's the color of your hair
Or your hands that wake in the night.

Well I don't think I could forget you
Even if I could.
The reason that I met you
Is cause God thought I should... should.

Together in the sand
Doesn't matter if we form another way
If we tell the tales that we can play
If it matters to the lost ones

Everywhere it's fine
Oh and maybe it's a matter of time
Maybe something that we both have left behind
Maybe something that we both forgot.

Well I don't wanna forget you
Even if I could.
The reason that I met you
Is cause God thought I should.

And I say roll back a dollar
And don't ask me to lie.
Every season another...
It's only a matter, it's only a matter of time... time.

Let's take it slow,
But don't let me go...
