I thought I had a bad feeling when we met
You give me those eyes I can't forget
I tell myself over and over: snap out of it, get a grip now
You keep creeping to me when you know it ain't alright
Its looking like I got something to hide
I'd have some explaining to do
And it wouldn't be a pretty site
So get it through your head that I'm not about to let myself go to your evil ways she can't know
That your calling me, you keep stalking me, like I said
Get it through your head
Don't believe that you can change my mind
I take it boy this ain't the first time
That you want what you can't have
So get off my back, nuff said
Get it through your head (x3)
You've got the nerve to tell me it's a small world
While trying to make best friends with my girl Acting like we just met -I regret having anything with you
We Never talk about what happened last night
Just put it in the past and say goodbye On the contrary, it's only temporary, can't you just leave it alone?
So get it through your head
that I'm not about to let myself go to your evil ways, she can't know
That your calling me, you keep stalking me, like I said
Get it through your head
Don't believe that you can change my mind

I take it boy this ain't the first time
That you want what you can't have
So get off my back, nuff said
Get it through your head-WOOOOOE
Now I gotta do damage control cause it's killing my soul
That she doesn't know. Now, I made up my mind I cant be so blind to just trade in something sweet, she is worth everything Erase my number from your phone

Is that too much to ask?
You don't know me, and I don't know you
So get it through your head
Get it through your head get it through you head Oh, Get it through your head that I'm not about to let myself go to your evil ways she
can't know
That your calling me, you keep stalking me, like I said
Get it through your head
Don't believe that you can change my mind
I take it boy this ain't the first time
That you want what you can't have
So get off my back, nuff said
Get it through your head
That I'm not about to let myself go to your evil ways
she can't know
That your calling me, you keep stalking me, like I said
Get it through your head
(spoken) I'm not asking you no more, I'm telling you Get it through your head, your really tiny little head
