(Angela Kaset/Wendy Waldman)

Well I've been looking at the numbers
And it makes me really scared
And I can't help but wonder How we'll ever get anywhere Hope can die so young Long before the race is run

And the odds are, we're all gonna get our heart
broken, someday
And the odds are some of our dreams will get left
along the way
And every time you hold me close, it's the light against the dark
And here we are, evening up the odds
Evening up the odds

And I want you to tell me
How safe I am with you
And how our hearts together
Can't help but make it through
And for every love that leaves There's a love that's meant to be

And the odds are, we're all gonna get our heart
broken, someday
And the odds are some of our dreams will get left
along the way
And every time you hold me close, it's the light against
the dark
And here we are, evening up the odds
Evening up the odds

Smile a smile, for every tear that falls That's not fair but darling after all Here we are, here we are

And the odds are, we're all gonna get our heart
broken, someday
And the odds are some of our dreams will get left
along the way

Every time you hold me close, it's the light against the dark
And here we are, evening up the odds
Evening up
Evening up
Evening up the odds
