It takes a special lady
To survive a broken heart
To go right on loving him
Like they've never been apart

He left her crying
He thought he needed me
But he found he still loves her
And I have to set him free

She's taking him back again
Back in her arms again
He let her down
But she doesn't let it show

She's taking him back again
She knew their love would never end
Now I'm the one who has to let him go

She only wants to hold him
Not to make him feel ashamed
She's better at forgiving
And forgetting who's to blame

She's such lucky girl
She could be losing him
Now I have the broken heart
'Cause he's in her arms again

She's taking him back again
Back in her arms again
He let her down
But she doesn't let it show

She's taking him back again
She knew their love would never end
And now I'm the one who has to let him go
Now I'm the one who has to let him go
