It's like you love me in the night, hit me in the day
It's like you love me in the night, hit me in the day
All we do is fight cause we don't know what to say
Break up in the car, make up in the way back home,
back home

And you hate when I might try to run away
And when you know you run, you'll be higher than the plane
Break up in the car, make up in the way back home,
back home
Yea, yea

We hate the truth, sometimes that hurts
We hate to lose, sometimes yea

I could never make you love me
I could never make you trust me
I just wanna say what I never said
Show you what it's like to love again

Show you, show you
Show you what it's like to love again
Show you, show you
Show you what it's like

It's like you don't know what's there, don't know where to go
Don't know how to feel, like your heart is made of stone
Break up down stairs, make up in the bed
You know, you know uh

We hate the truth, sometimes that hurts
We hate to lose, sometimes yea

I could never make you love me
I could never make you trust me
I just wanna say what I never said
Show you what it's like to love again

Show you, show you

Show you what it's like to love again
Show you, show you
Show you what it's like

How to love
How to love me baby
How to love yea yea
How to love yea yea
How to love yea yea

Show you, show you
Show you, show you
Oh!

I could never make you love me
I could never make you trust me
I just wanna say what I never said
Show you what it's like to love again

Show you, show you
Show you what it's like to love again
Show you, show you
Show you what it's like

I could never make you love me
I could never make you trust me
I just wanna say what I never said
Show you what it's like to love again

Show you, show you
Show you what it's like to love again
Show you, show you
