Started out just a young cowboy
Writin' songs on a cheap guitar
Melodies were kind of rough
But you knew they came from the heart

And if not for you
I'd never could have ever got this far
Yeah, you helped me grow
And I owe you more than you'll ever know

And from the days at the Terrace Ballroom
Well, me made it up to Symphony Hall
I played my songs and you sang along
And man, we really had a ball

And you brought your little children
And I've seen 'em all grow tall
Yeah, I watched you grow
And I owe you more than you'll ever know that's right

And all the wild and woolly cowboys
Dancin' and yellin' for more
Your hats and suites an cowboy boots
Stompin' on a hardwood floor

And you waltzed those Utah ladies
Beneath the spotlight glow
Yeah, you helped me grow
And I owe you more than you'll ever know
I owe you more than you'll ever know
