A little bit of daylight
Shines on my pillow
It comes through my window pane
Speak of the morning
Hope is eternal
Better to look at it this way
This could be my lucky day
It's crazy that I hear you say
This could be my lucky day
A glass filled with crystals
Six million rainbows
Gifted to see with children's eyes
Always a small change
Of shooting that rainbow
Bless this dawn with sweet surprise

This could be my lucky day
It's crazy that I hear you say
This could be my lucky day
No inhibitions, naive forever
Better looking up than looking down
Don't try to beat it, twist and defeat it
Leave those kind of complications
Never to be found
This could be my lucky day
It's crazy that I hear you say
This could be my lucky day
