I don't like to be alone- I like a happy place
Any place that stops me feeling blue
Oh when my last drink is over
And gone I'm wanting nobody but you

There's a certain time each day
When the evening shadows fall
See them turning to the darkest violet blue
And my one and only picture
When I close my eyes
Nobody but you

Through the years nothing changes
And there's so many that I knew
But every time it rearranges
There's only one face
Comes shining through
Nobody but you

Through the years
Nothing changes
And there's so many that I knew
But every time it rearranges
There's only one face
Comes shining through
Nobody but you
