Once in a blue moon's conference We will win this revenge We will win against this crime With our influence, the moon is rising still surviving

We will wake to reality
The distance of love from anxiety
I'll try, I will try my best

A method of psychotherapeutic A call of a new age It's time to revenge tonight

We will wake to reality
The distance of love from anxiety
I'll try, I will try my best
Where is the light from the part of the criminal?
I'll try, I will try my best

Where is the light from the part of the criminal? Where is the light from the part of the criminal? Where is the light from the part of the criminal? Where is the light from the part!
