chorus:

I'll be faithful to your memory,
As you are, and not supposed to be.
And when people ask me how I know,
I can smile and say she told me so

"In a little while you'll be all right."
That's what people tell me every night,
But I've been somewhere they have never been,

I was privileged to call you friend.

(chorus)

I asked for nothing and now here it is,
Every room is full of emptiness.
Though I live these days apart from you,
Our Redeemer has redeemed this, too.

(chorus 2x)
