We'll break it all when you're here
Use your strength to hold me down
I won't cry at all, we know better
So much better than the sky we see today

This mind will never stay
So lets do this again, we'll do this again
And the colour fades away
And it's dark again, and it's dark again

It's all about the air we breathe
And I can't breathe at all, I just can't breathe at all
You will never see everything
So I don't care at all, I just don't care at all
So save yourself

It's where we are I can't see
Going back to change it all
Our brothers gone, left for nothing
Left for nothing than the sky along the way

This mind will never stay
So lets do this again, we'll do this again
And the colour fades away
And it's dark again, and it's dark again

It's all about the air we breathe
And I can't breathe at all, I just can't breathe at all
You will never see everything
So I don't care at all, I just don't care at all
So save yourself

And the colour fades away
And it's dark again, and it's dark again

It's all about the air we breathe
And I can't breathe at all, I just can't breathe at all
You will never see everything
So I don't care at all, I just don't care at all
So save yourself

It's all about the air we breathe

And I can't breathe at all, I just can't breathe at all
(So save yourself)
It's all about the air we breathe
And I can't breathe at all, I just can't breathe at all
(So Save Yourself)
You will never see everything
So I don't care at all, I just don't care at all
So save yourself
