I came home this morning with two thoughts in my head

One was just how broke we got; the other is what you said

How a woman can look at a man in house crumbling under bills

How she can say that the seasons may change but her love never will

Through it all, through everything you were the only one

When I'm wild, you're the reason why I never come undone

When the bottom dropped out I took any job I could

And when the money still wasn't enough I did some things that were no good

I got paid to fight in the streets I came home the beaten man

You never cried you never said a word you just washed the blood from my hands

Through it all, through everything you were the only
one

When I'm wild, you're the reason why I never come
undone

I got one reason why to come back home tonight

To reach out and try to be the man I was back then

You know I'd give anything, just to be with you again

Because Through it all, through everything you were the only one

And I'm alive; you're the reason why our love is a

smoking gun

Through it all, through everything you were the only

one

smoking gun
