This time, we cry, and taste the bad times
Can't you look through broken windows
We dont usually get to see you
Can't you look through broken windows
It's no good
Just go (It's no good)

[chorus:]
Another chance to go
Another misplaced reason
Another way to look at falling apart
Another bit of love
Another wasted season
Another chance to watch it all become one

Can we try to fall back down through
Can't you look through broken windows
But now got no time to wait for

Can't you look through broken windows
It's no good
Just go (It's no good)

[chorus]

Become one
Become one, one, one, one, become one

[chorus]

One, one, one, one, one
