Take me by the hand and lead me to the slaughter
Close my eyes and sing just let it go
The warmest rain it falls on the darkest crimson mountain
Seeping from the wound and sink below
Don't say the pain will fade tomorrow
The last thing that I feel will be today

Hey
You, you, you, don't you know
You took upon my soul
You, you, you, don't you know
You put me on my knees and cut my throat
(can I feel this way again)

I lost my positivity, I'm positively lost
I thought the path was obvious it's not Resign myself to failed potential
The wind exits the sails
My scarred hands sustained in these two nails
But don't say the pain will fade tomorrow
The last thing that I feel with be today

(hey)
You, you, you, don't you know
You took upon my soul
You, you, you, don't you know
You put me on my knees and cut my throat

This is how it feels (x13)
