"Let You Know"

Lost in the windows of time,
You see a time of change
Don't it all feel strange?

Stuck in the reverb of me,
I hear echos of myself
But I can't say what I see.

I'm finding the answers
To my great divide

Someday when the sky is falling I will let you know
Someday when my dreams are caving in I will let you
Know
I'll let you know

Forget the first verse of life:

There's nothing learned at all -
At least until you fall.

Stratospheres and atmospheres collide,
Worlds come to an end
And there's nowhere left to hide.

Pre-chorus * chorus

... when I'm falling
I'll let you know when I'm calling
I'll let you know when I'm breaking
I'll let you know when I'm making it through.
