Love is a loaded gun and my trigger finger lingers waiting for the right time to let this go.
I know I'm not the only one who feels this, hears this.
Is it a near miss?
'Cause I think it's finally
time to let my feelings show.

Are good intentions as far as I can go?

Chorus: Kind words, just
a bullet in a chamber.
Big talk but nothing's
ever changing.
Take aim but never making my mark. Love can change a world but it's gotta
start with my heart.

Love is a gift of one and it's all I can't buy, but I'm looking for a reason I can give it now.
Every single mother's son reaches out for love from someone. And I hold the key to breaking through the doubt.

Are good intentions
as far as I can go?

(Chorus)

Are good intentions
as far as I can go?

(Chorus)
