"I No Longer Fear The Headless"

This was some new form of bold expression
My first thought was run and hide
They're so in touch with their dark side

They don't glow at night from radiation
These are myths the press concocts
They don't get off on who it shocks

I was closed-minded before
Show those freaks the door
Now all I want is more
I no longer fear the headless
I no longer fear the headless
I no longer want the headless to die

It's not what they do to get attention
Every day's not Halloween
It's just the San Francisco scene

Who cares who's from the grave?
They're not so depraved
Just built to misbehave
I no longer fear the headless
I no longer fear the headless
I no longer want the headless to die
