[Louis Logic] Yeah, yeah, yeah, you know what I'm sayin, yo, yo, OK So this is it kids, your whole fifteen bucks worth It's been a long wild ride getting here Lost a lot of friends, made a few lifelong bonds Mostly enemies though, so, uh, you know I guess at this critical juncture, y'all expecting some answers To a few pertinent, burning questions You know, "What's gettin' ready to happen with hip hop, Lou?" "Yo Lou, what's gettin' ready to happen with hip hop man, what's getting ready?" So I tell 'em, "You know what's gonna happen with hip hop?" "You know what's gonna happen with hip hop, man?" I'll tell you what's gonna happen with hip hop, money: Whatever the fuck I say! If it isn't broke don't fix it That's why I call bitches hos and hos bitches A lot of politicians would probably wash my mouth with soap That's how it goes? What, I'm not allowed to joke? I never fix it if it ain't broke That's probably why I drink beer and chain smoke Think weird and now these emmer-effers wanna wash my mouth for me? As if I don't have my own eyes, how corny Cry babies, you think you're looking down on me Cause I pound forty beers a night and walk around horny Mother always said I had a mouth on me, Shit, I'm makin' records now, it worked out for me So if it isn't broke don't fix it That's why I call niggas hos and hos bitches You shitheads don't get it, I'll rephrase it then I always play to win, so when the games begin you ain't my friend And so, in summation, for those delusional grandiose shits Who feel their slimy characters are personified In this polyrhythmic potshot of a record I offer you this: I'm not not shittin' on you filthy motherscratchers
